WHAT IS DEFI & WEB 3.0?

DeFi relies on the use of a blockchain

Web 3.0 is meant to be decentralized, open to everyone (with a bottom-up design), Ouk-pro space is based on web 3

which is often based on Ethereum in many DeFi operations

A blockchain is a form of immutable distributed ledger

That cryptographically secures entries, which are used for transactions

BEP 20 BLOCKCHAIN

BEP20 is a Binance token standard which allows users to deploy fungible tokens or cryptocurrencies on BSC

More specifically, leading crypto assets on other chains can be transferred to the Binance smart chain in the form of pegged BEP20 tokens

Future-Pro.space 100% verified on Bep20 network blockchain

Future PRO IS ON BEP20 USDT

Tether (USDT) is the largest stablecoin by market capitalization

Crypto traders use stablecoins like Tether to make transfers between different cryptocurrencies or to move their investments into or out of fiat currencies. The value of USDT is pegged to the U.S dollar

As the company claims to hold dollars and other assets that are equal or greater than the total number of USDT in circulation
